WELCOME

ESB International, which is wholly owned by the Electricity Supply Board, is a leading engineering consultancy firm to the global utility sector, which invests in, builds, owns and operates power assets internationally and in Ireland.

Headquartered in Dublin, Ireland, we employ over 725 staff across operations in Europe, the Middle East, Africa and South East Asia.

In all our markets, we are faced with strategic challenges that affect millions of people – and our solutions help to transform economies, societies, and the lives of individuals and communities.

Our success is built solidly on our experience in delivering electricity to our own country, resulting in a social and economic revolution over many decades.

ESB has brought electricity to Ireland's major towns and cities; a Rural Electrification Scheme brought the transformative power of electricity to even the most remote corners of the country.

We have drawn on this experience in over 120 countries around the world, offering not just technical expertise, but also the leadership and personal commitment to succeed in some of the most demanding economies and geographical regions around the globe.

We would be delighted to share our depth of expertise with you, and we assure you of our unstinting support throughout whatever journey you may now be embarking on.
